ABC TECHNOLOGY GROUP ANNOUNCES DIAMOND ASSOCIATE STATUS WITH NEC UNIFIED SOLUTIONS

ABC Strengthens Alliance with NEC Unified Solutions

Fort Lauderdale, Florida June 15, 2014 — ABC Technology Group, a Leading Telecommunications Equipment Dealer in South Florida, today announced that it is now a Diamond Associate of NEC Unified Solutions' (NEC) Alliance Recognition Program. NEC Unified Solutions, a leader in converged communications solutions for the enterprise and small to medium businesses (SMB), created the Alliance program to recognize Associates' sales achievements, business strengths and to solidify the partnership between Associates and NEC.

The Diamond status is a three-dimensional method of recognition taking into account the Associate's relationship with NEC, its competitiveness in the marketplace, and overall technical expertise. Associates earn "points" for sales volumes, technical and application certifications, and percentage of NEC solutions within their business. By achieving Diamond status, the Associate is awarded special benefits from NEC including special training and demos, designation on NEC's website and certain discounts and rebates.

ABC was established in 1978 in Florida. ABC sells, installs, and services Business IP Telecom Systems.

Mr. Randy Simon, CEO of ABC states "On behalf of ABC, we are most pleased with our long-term relationship with NEC and to now become NEC's highest Level Dealer".

"Any culmination of two successful entities breeds foundation for success, and by creating this program, NEC is able to show its loyalty to our Channel community," said Larry Levenberg, vice president and general manager, national channel, NEC Unified Solutions. "With the involvement of companies such as ABC our Channel community has become a vehicle for increased sales, creating opportunities that help enterprises communicate more efficiently and effectively."
